HIGHLIGHTS & DESCRIPTION

Yukon Moose hunt

Overview

Our partners in the Yukon can offer hunting in one of the largest hunting district in all of the Yukon territory. The district lies in the central part of the Yukon, east of the town of Whitehorse, and stretches over 5.6 million hectares of absolute wilderness.

The hunting camps here are located in the heart of this huge hunting district and are only accessible by air or on horseback. Much of the hunting district has never been disturbed by a human footprint, which means the landscape, the game and its genetic composition are totally pristine.

The population of moose here is incredibly dense, estimated to be 3 times higher than seen anywhere else in North America. It is estimated that there are up to 10,000 individuals resident in this district and there are more than 100 different locations where our outfitter can position our hunters. The trophies of Alaska/Yukon Moose are the largest of any moose species and the average trophy size of bulls taken here lies around an impressive 60". However, every season bulls of up to 70" are also taken.

Hunting Period:

September-October

The hunting is very varied, often horses are used to transport our hunters around the district, but boats are also used on the rivers and lakes while the use of Argo atvs can

HIGHLIGHTS

- On of the most dense populations of moose in all of North America.
- Beautiful district in absolute wilderness
- Average size of moose trophies is around 60"
- Possible combinations with grizzly bear, caribou, wolf and black bear
- High success rate

make for very effective hunting. Our outfitters prefer to place hunters in the camps which they believe will give the best chance of success at the current time, so one must be prepared to use different methods of transport during the hunt and have a flexible attitude.

As much of the district is mountainous, hunters should be physically fit to get the best out of the hunt. During the spring it is possible to hunt for grizzly bear, while during the autumn you can hunt for sheep, moose, caribou, grizzly bear, black bear and wolf. There is also plenty of good fishing in the district, if you have the time you can catch trout, grayling and pike in the many beautiful rivers and lakes.

Suggested Itinerary:

Day 1: Fly to Whitehorse (arrive in the evening and stay overnight in a hotel)

Day 2: Relax in Whitehorse, staying in a hotel

ACCOMMODATION

Accommodation in the Yukon

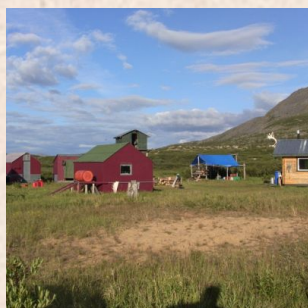

The tour begins by flying to the town of Whitehorse in the Yukon, typically via Vancouver. You should arrange flights so that you arrive here 2 days before you plan to fly to the hunting district on a chartered light aircraft. The outfitter will meet you on your arrival at the airport in Whitehorse and take you to the hotel of your choice. We will be happy to help to book a hotel for your first couple of nights in Whitehorse. This way you can be certain that all your baggage and weapons will have arrived safely. It also will give you a chance to buy any extra equipment that you might need in some of Whitehorse's many hunting stores and enjoy a good dinner in a restaurant before you head off into the wilderness, where meals often consist of canned food prepared over a fire.

On the morning of your planned charter flight to the hunting camp you will be collected from your hotel and driven to the charter company's base next to the Yukon River. Here your small charter aircraft will be waiting to fly you out to the hunting district east of Whitehorse. Your hunting guide will be waiting to bid you welcome, and will be there to assist you throughout your stay at camp and the hunt.

The chartered aircraft is usually a float plane that will land on one of the many lakes in the hunting district. Here your hunting guide will be waiting to take you onward to the planned camp. The hunting camp usually consists of spacious, heated log cabins, or alternatively tented camps deep in the hunting district.

Your stay in the hunting district includes all meals, and hunters will enjoy a good breakfast every morning and a hearty dinner in the evening after a hard day's hunting. However you should not expect gourmet food, rather simple meals prepared over the camp fire. Both the guide and hunters help out with the chores in camp and during the hunt, and together they will make sure everything runs smoothly.

HUNTING AREA The Yukon

The ultimate wilderness adventure and world-class trophies!

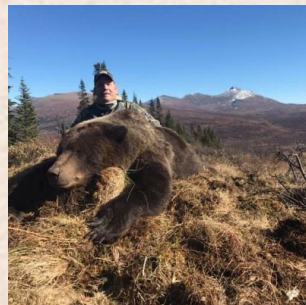

The hunting district stretches over 5.6 million hectares of absolute wilderness with terrain that varies from scenic mountains, large plateaux, wide valley floors and hundreds of kilometers of river and countless lakes. It includes the ranges of the Cassiar Mountains, Pelly Mountains and Cambell Mountains, which has the highest mountain in the district at 2.350m.

This hunting district is one of the last large areas that has not yet been divided up and fully explored. Most hunting takes place at an altitude of between 1.000 - 2.000m. The hunting results over the last few years have been fantastic and has produced many record sized trophies, thanks to the size of the district and the low hunting pressure on the game living in this fantastic area of wilderness.

The population of moose here is incredibly dense, estimated to be 3 times higher than seen anywhere else in North America. It is estimated that there are up to 10,000 individuals resident in this district and there are more than 100 different locations where our outfitter can position visiting hunters. The trophies of Alaska Yukon Moose are the largest of any moose, the average trophy size of bulls taken here lies around an impressive 60". However, every season bulls of up to 70" are also taken.

As well as moose, this district is also home to one of the most dense populations of grizzly bear in North America, and is the area that is awarded the most licences annually. There are also smaller populations of mountain caribou, black bear and wolf, which are also possible to shoot during the hunt.

About us

Limpopo & Diana Hunting Tours

Limpopo & Diana Hunting Tours Limpopo Travel and Diana Hunting Tours – which today are one and the same company - are built on more than four decades of experience in the hunting travel industry. Diana Hunting tours was founded in Svendborg back in 1974 by the internationally known figure in the hunting tour industry, Jan Krossteig, who today remains shareholder and chairman of the concern.

Over the years the company has grown into the world's largest hunting travel office, with hunting partners in more than 40 countries and customers from around the world. This has only been possible because of the strength of our customers faith in our company, our partners and the service we provide. We take great pride in the fact that a significant number of our customers are "regulars" you not only travel with us frequently, but also bring with them new customers into our business.

The hunting travel market has never been as chaotic as it is at present. There have always been a mass of small and medium sized agencies trading on the market, but in recent years the rise of the internet has really opened up the market for direct booking and packages sold by "agents" of more or less transparent character and by agencies based abroad.

A large number of hunters have had their fingers burnt booking "cheap" packages, which rarely proceed as promised. Generally it is only when things go wrong that the unfortunate hunter who bought the tour first realises what the difference between a good Danish travel agency - with all the security that entails - and a questionable foreign seller, really is.

What we offer our customers is a rather unique level of security. Our experienced staff really know our destinations and can provide highly qualified advice tailored to the customer's individual requirements. If you book your hunting tour through us you also have a guarantee against the unlikely event of bankruptcy through the Danish Travel Guarantee Fund. Our long standing membership of the Danish Travel Agency Association is also a guarantee for professional service throughout all the proceedings that a hunting tour entails - also in the event of something not going quite as planned. As one of our customers you can expect around the clock support, via our emergency hotline, in the event of anything at all going wrong.
