HIGHLIGHTS & DESCRIPTION

Wolf and Coyote Hunt in Alberta

Overview

Our partner, WM Outfitting, located in Canada near the town of La Crete in Alberta, where they also has their extensive hunting areas. Here, we offer hunting for the elusive wolf and coyote from November to February. Our partner has many years of experience in hunting North American wildlife species, and their success rate has been consistently high over the past years.

Taking down a North American wolf is a significant challenge and requires patience for it to be successful. They come in various colors and sizes and can weigh up to 175 pounds. A wolf over 120 pounds is considered quite large.

The hunting takes place from isolated hunting towers equipped with a small stove to keep warm in these extreme temperatures, which can drop as low as -25 degrees Celsius (-13 degrees Fahrenheit).

The wolves are shot at bait sites strategically placed in the area, where leftover meat from local butchers is regularly placed to lure these very elusive wolves out of the vast forests. Wolves possess an extraordinary sense of hearing and smell, making them an even more unique hunting trophy. The bait site is typically positioned 200 to 300 meters away from the hunting tower to prevent the wolves from detecting your presence.

It requires a lot of patience and mental strength to sit in a hunting tower for 6 days, from sunrise to sunset, but if you're willing to dedicate the necessary time and remain attentive, your chances of getting a shot at a wolf are very good. This hunt is not for everyone, and hunters should be mentally prepared to invest the hours it takes to shoot a wolf.

Sometimes, a wolf is shot on the first day, while other times it might be on the last day, so it's crucial to be ready and prepared at all times.

The recommended caliber for wolf hunting, as advised by our partner, is the .270 Winchester Magnum. However, anything from .243 and above works well, as long as a cartridge with sufficient knockdown power is selected. Wolves are resilient creatures with a unique will to survive, so any wolf that is hit incorrectly or with a small caliber is difficult to locate.

Our wolf and coyote hunts take place in northern Alberta. The wolf and coyote population here is abundant, and the hunting is based from camps situated around this vast hunting area.

Accommodation is provided in cabins with a kitchen, dining area, and living room. Each hunter has access to their own room with a comfortable bed. There are three showers, a TV, WiFi, refrigerator, coffee machine, fireplace, and all the amenities expected in a hunting lodge.

The hunting area is diverse, mainly consisting of mixed forests, clearings, and agricultural regions.

HUNTING AREA La Crete Alberta

The hunting grounds are enormous and diverse, encompassing forests, lakes, rivers, and expansive meadows. These areas are remote, and many of the species that inhabit here have never encountered humans before. The location is situated in the northernmost agricultural community in Canada, which attracts thousands of geese and waterfowl to the large agricultural fields in the area every year.

The hunting area is immense and offers numerous unforgettable hunting opportunities. During the hunt, you can expect to encounter a variety of species, including black bears, Canadian moose, whitetail deer, wolves, and coyotes.

A significant portion of the hunting grounds lacks roads. ATVs and 4x4 vehicles are typically used as the means of transportation to navigate the area during the hunt.

About us

Limpopo & Diana Hunting Tours

Limpopo & Diana Hunting Tours Limpopo Travel and Diana Hunting Tours – which today are one and the same company - are built on more than four decades of experience in the hunting travel industry. Diana Hunting tours was founded in Svendborg back in 1974 by the internationally known figure in the hunting tour industry, Jan Krossteig, who today remains shareholder and chairman of the concern.

Over the years the company has grown into the world's largest hunting travel office, with hunting partners in more than 40 countries and customers from around the world. This has only been possible because of the strength of our customers faith in our company, our partners and the service we provide. We take great pride in the fact that a significant number of our customers are "regulars" you not only travel with us frequently, but also bring with them new customers into our business.

The hunting travel market has never been as chaotic as it is at present. There have always been a mass of small and medium sized agencies trading on the market, but in recent years the rise of the internet has really opened up the market for direct booking and packages sold by "agents" of more or less transparent character and by agencies based abroad.

A large number of hunters have had their fingers burnt booking "cheap" packages, which rarely proceed as promised. Generally it is only when things go wrong that the unfortunate hunter who bought the tour first realises what the difference between a good Danish travel agency - with all the security that entails - and a questionable foreign seller, really is.

What we offer our customers is a rather unique level of security. Our experienced staff really know our destinations and can provide highly qualified advice tailored to the customer's individual requirements. If you book your hunting tour through us you also have a guarantee against the unlikely event of bankruptcy through the Danish Travel Guarantee Fund. Our long standing membership of the Danish Travel Agency Association is also a guarantee for professional service throughout all the proceedings that a hunting tour entails - also in the event of something not going quite as planned. As one of our customers you can expect around the clock support, via our emergency hotline, in the event of anything at all going wrong.
