Overview

The Pyrenees in the southern France offers a terrific mountain hunt for chamois! We have had many hunters on Chamois hunts and there are reports of really good game management, hunting, organization, trophy quality and game populations, and when you can also treat yourself to a lot of delicious specialties from French cuisine, this kind of hunting doesn't get much better .

Hunting area in the Pyrenees

You hunt in the same mountainous areas that mouflons are hunted in. The areas are extremely hilly and require a certain physical fitness to get the best conditions for a successful hunt. We have different areas at our disposal and regardless of whether you are in one area or the other, you are hunting in extremely beautiful mountain terrain in the Pyrenees.

An Ideal Hunting Destination for the Whole Family

This is an extremely charming part of France, and even any non-hunters in your family will find lots of exciting attractions here. In addition to the hunting there is plenty of interest to see in this part of France. Where the country is at its "narrowest", it is only about 200km between the Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea. There are many exciting old towns and castles, such as the city of Toulouse, the famous pilgrimage center of Lourdes, the historic town of Pau and the tiny country of Andorra close by. Finally, sampling the local foods and wines produced in

HIGHLIGHTS

- Game populations, trophy quality and hunt organisation are all of the highest standard
- Fantastically beautiful mountain district
- A really charming district of France
- It is also an attractive destination for non-hunters

this region is worth a trip in itself. If you would like to spend a few more days here exploring this part of France, especially if you are bringing the family along, we recommend that you rent a car here.

The hunt

The Chamois in the Pyrenees are typically found some way up in the mountains, and you can expect to hunt at an altitude of 500 meters and up to 2500 meters. The hunting pressure in the various areas is minimal, which can also be seen in the trophies that are taken each year. Only older chamois are shot and the chance for a big one is extremely good.

The best hunting period is during the rut, which extends from mid/late October to end-November.

Rental rifle

It is possible to rent a rifle from our French partner. He offers, among other things, Blaser R8 prof. success in caliber 30.06 with a quality binocular from Zeiss. If you want to bring your own rifle, you must be aware that our partner requires you to shoot with a silencer.

Flights

The simplest is to fly to Toulouse, and here you can either rent a car or we can organize a transfer to the hunting grounds. We are of course happy to help you book the flight.

ACCOMMODATION

Accommodation - Pyrenees

Maison Peyroy
Chambres d'Hôte & Gîte

During your hunt you will stay in a small hotel/guest house close to the hunting district. We use a number of different establishments, but generally speaking they are all very charming, often in equipped with modern facilities such as delightful rooms, with private bath and toilet, common sitting areas, wifi, and some even have a swimming pool. Do not expect to loose weight here. Normally, you will have a hearty breakfast before heading out for the hunt. One hunts most of the day, so lunch is eaten out in the mountains, and upon returning, a delightful dinner with delicious French specialties and a good glass of wine is served.

Naturally we would be happy to help you book flights.

If you would like to spend a few extra days in this part of France, and possibly bring your family along, then we would recommend that you hire a car.

On top of the hunting, this region of France is also very interesting. Here where the country is at it narrowest, it is only around 200 km to both the Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea. There are many exciting historic towns and chateaux, for example Toulouse, the famous town of Lourdes and Pau, while the tiny country of Andorra is also close by. The wonderful food and wine of the region is well worth the trip by itself. All in all, it is a very attractive destination for the non-hunting part of the family.

The easiest way to get here is to fly to either Toulouse or Pau.

PARTNER
Julien

08

Our partner, Julien, is both an outfitter and professional hunter, who has been carefully building up his successful company over a number of years. We have enjoyed an excellent working relationship with Julien since 2012, and he has really taken great care of our hunters, giving them some great hunting experiences and some fine trophies.

Julien offers roebuck hunting during the summer, while during the autumn and winter he concentrates on hunting chamois, mouflon and red deer.

Together with his skilled hunting guides, he takes care of all aspects of your hunt and accommodation here. He makes sure you will stay as close to the hunting district you will hunt in as possible, that all the licenses and paperwork are taken care of, and that your trophies will get the best possible treatment.

HUNTING AREA Pyrenees

As far as mountain hunting is concerned, there are several different hunting areas in the Pyrenees. Regardless of whether it is one or the other hunting area, you hunt in a very nice mountain terrain in the Pyrenees. Here there is a very good population of chamois and mouflons, and since the hunting pressure is minimal, good trophies can also be expected, and at prices that are significantly lower than on the Spanish side of the Pyrenees.

The hunting period for chamois and mouflon is from 15 October until the end of February, and you can hunt every day of the week.

The best hunting period for chamois is from mid/late October to the end of November, which is the chamois' rutting period.

The best mouflon hunting period is during the rut, which extends from mid-November to mid-December.

Chamois

Male and female are hunted and both of them are trophy-bearing. In general, only old animals of 8 years or older are hunted. Medal trophies (bronze and silver) are shot every year.

Mouflon

Only older mouflon rams of +5 years are shot and the chance for a big mouflon ram is extremely good. Mouflon rams with horn lengths of over 80 cm are shot every year.

About us

Limpopo & Diana Hunting Tours

Limpopo & Diana Hunting Tours Limpopo Travel and Diana Hunting Tours – which today are one and the same company - are built on more than four decades of experience in the hunting travel industry. Diana Hunting tours was founded in Svendborg back in 1974 by the internationally known figure in the hunting tour industry, Jan Krossteig, who today remains shareholder and chairman of the concern.

Over the years the company has grown into the world's largest hunting travel office, with hunting partners in more than 40 countries and customers from around the world. This has only been possible because of the strength of our customers faith in our company, our partners and the service we provide. We take great pride in the fact that a significant number of our customers are "regulars" you not only travel with us frequently, but also bring with them new customers into our business.

The hunting travel market has never been as chaotic as it is at present. There have always been a mass of small and medium sized agencies trading on the market, but in recent years the rise of the internet has really opened up the market for direct booking and packages sold by "agents" of more or less transparent character and by agencies based abroad.

A large number of hunters have had their fingers burnt booking "cheap" packages, which rarely proceed as promised. Generally it is only when things go wrong that the unfortunate hunter who bought the tour first realises what the difference between a good Danish travel agency - with all the security that entails - and a questionable foreign seller, really is.

What we offer our customers is a rather unique level of security. Our experienced staff really know our destinations and can provide highly qualified advice tailored to the customer's individual requirements. If you book your hunting tour through us you also have a guarantee against the unlikely event of bankruptcy through the Danish Travel Guarantee Fund. Our long standing membership of the Danish Travel Agency Association is also a guarantee for professional service throughout all the proceedings that a hunting tour entails - also in the event of something not going quite as planned. As one of our customers you can expect around the clock support, via our emergency hotline, in the event of anything at all going wrong.
